

Sportsmanship, Ethics, and Integrity Committee Courageous Student Award

The Courageous Student Award is an award presented by the WVSSAC.

Many students throughout the State of West Virginia deserve recognition; however, they sometimes are unable to excel in competition.

Every school has those students who work extremely hard, display good citizenship, and are always willing to extend a helping hand.

The award is presented to students who exhibit courage or overcome adversity to contribute either as a participant or in support of interscholastic activities programs.

The following students were recipients of the 2008-09 Courageous Student Award:

Nicole Spears
Terry Ice, III
Justin Kennedy

Sherman High School (2007-08)
Robert L. Bland MS
Cameron High School

Principals receive information on this award during the school year.

Many students throughout the State of West Virginia deserve recognition; however, they sometimes are unable to excel in interscholastic competition. The Courageous Student Award is one of the various awards presented by the WVSSAC Sportsmanship, Ethics, and Integrity Committee.

The award will be presented to students who exhibit courage or overcome adversity to contribute either as a participant or in support of interscholastic activities programs. Every school has those students who work extremely hard, display good citizenship, and are always willing to extend a helping hand.

Principals must submit a brief letter of explanation concerning each nomination. All requests will be honored. Certificates will be sent to the member school principal, and they will determine the method of presentation for each award. We recommend presentation at your Annual Awards Banquet.

A copy of the certificate is to the right. Hopefully each school will take advantage of this award and recognize a Courageous Student in your school.
